dropped to 101 degrees, but it rose steadily until the maximum was reached. In the evening it fell again ing physician made his fifth visit to the patient's bedside, it registered 102½ degrees.

Dr. L. C. Taylor, the governor's physician, stated that it was impossible to tell at this time whether the governor will have malarial or typhoid fever or whether he will escape both.
He does not consider the condition of his patient alarming, or even serious, at the present time. It will be two or three days, he said, before a positive diagnosis of the case can be made.

Anniversary.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President
Roosevelt was 44 years old yesterday.

sonal friends called to pay their respects. The cabinet officers were received after 4 o'clock. The cabinet officers do not usually present the President with any formal gift on his birthday. They all remembered the occasion with flowers. Secretary Root

VOTERS SHOULD KNOW THE FACTS

WHY PROPOSED AMENDMENT IS SO IMPORTANT.

SUPT. HARVEY GIVES REASONS

Urges People to Inform Themselves and Vote To Take Schools Out of Politics.

In the interest of the public schools of the state of Wisconsin and for the purpose of informing the voters on the constitutional amendment which is to be voted on at the coming election and the reasons why it should be passed, L. D. Harvey, the present superintendent of public instruction, has prepared a little leaflet for distribution.

To Inform Voters
There is absolutely no politics in the leaflet and more than there is in the amendment itself. State Supt. Harvey simply gives the reasons why he has advocated these changes and they are reasons which must appeal to every thinking citizen. It is the general opinion of those who are vitally interested in the advancement of the schools that voters in general are taking too little interest in this subject and lack of information is believed to be the reason. It is thought that if men and women really understood the importance of securing the amendment, there would be no lack of interest. It is for the purpose of providing this information and arousing this interest that this circular has been issued. The substance of it follows and it is worth while the time of every man and woman to read.

The Amendment
The following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Wisconsin was agreed to by the legislatures of 1899 and 1901. Chapter 253, laws of 1901, provides that the amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the people of the state at the next general election, in November, 1902.

"Provisions of amendment. Section 1. The supervision of public instruction shall be vested in a state superintendent and such other officers as the legislature shall direct; and their qualifications, powers, duties, and compensation shall be prescribed by law. The state superintendent shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state at the same time and in the same manner as members of the supreme court, and shall hold his office for four years from the succeeding first Monday in July. The state superintendent chosen at the general election in November, 1902, shall hold and continue in his office until the first Monday in July, 1905, and his successor shall be chosen at the judicial election in April, 1905. The term of office, time and manner of electing or appointing all other officers of supervision of public instruction shall be fixed by law."

Importance of the Office
The proper administration of the office affects the interests of nearly a half million pupils in the public schools. The state superintendent comes into official relations with more than 20,000 school officers and with the 13,000 teachers of the common schools. He passes upon the qualifications of the 700 high school teachers, and of the 750 teachers in the state graded schools. The proper discharge of his duties directly affects the character of work done in the schools of the state, for the maintenance of which $7,000,000 are expended annually, and in which nearly one-fourth of the entire population of the state are receiving instruction for not less than seven months each year.

Work not Political
It is the only state office requiring constructive and organizing work. This work must be carried on continuously and intelligently in order that the school system may keep pace in improvement with changing conditions, and with the necessities of the people. The state superintendent is called upon for information and advice in all matters relating to school legislation, and to the administration of the schools laws. His various duties bring him into close official relations with people of all political opinions, and in matters which should be decided without reference to political bias.

Take Office Out of Politics
Of all the offices in the state government, it is the one that should be entirely free from political influence or bias. For this reason this office should be chosen because of his professional and administrative ability in educational work and not because of his political belief. This office should be put upon the same plane as the judiciary, where men are elected on account of their fitness, and at the spring election, when no political issues divide parties.

The proposed amendment aims to take this office out of politics by putting the election in the spring, at the same time the judges are elected.

Should be Qualified
The amendment gives the legislature the power to fix the qualifications as well as the powers duties and compensation of the state superintendent. The state superintendent ought to be required to have educational qualifications while by the present law he is not even required to hold a third grade certificate, consequently it is impossible for a man to occupy this high position and issue certificates to high school teachers and county superintendents when he himself could not qualify as either.

Beginning of Term
The amendment also provides that the state superintendent shall enter upon the duties of his office at the opening of the school year. At the present time he comes into office at the same time the legislature convenes with no experience in the administration of schools laws and perhaps with little or no knowledge of the laws in existence or any definite ideas as to needed changes in the laws. Under the amendment he would be able to give information or advice to members of the legislature on matters pertaining to education. The provision regarding the election of all other officers of supervision of public instruction is exactly what is done in the case of all other officers, state or local which are not constitutional offices.

For State Interests
Supt. Harvey who is conceded to be Wisconsin's leading educator, places emphasis on the fact that the proposed amendment is in no sense a political measure and he urges upon the people that a favorable vote is of the most vital importance to the educational interests of the state. As proof of the fact that it is not a political or partisan movement, the following bit of history ought to be conclusive evidence. Of the one hundred and thirty-three members of the legislature, but two voted against it in 1899 and in 1901 but three voted against it. It is now "up to" the voters.

OF COURSE THE HEN LAID EGGS

An Amusing Scene in the St. Paul Depot, and the Amazing Results.

An aged woman who held a large covered basket in her lap was the center of all eyes in the Milwaukee depot waiting room on Monday afternoon. She had been sitting there for some time awaiting her train, when a slight commotion became noticeable within the basket. There was a slight rustling of wings, and then an exultant cackling.

All of this seemed to be taken as a matter of course by the old lady, who waited until the commotion had subsided. She then opened the basket, disclosing to view a Plymouth Rock which made a desperate effort to get from its place of confinement. After groping about in the bottom of the basket for a few moments, the woman who owned the industrious fowl brought forth an egg, which she carefully placed in another basket which she carried, while the more courteous of the onlookers turned the other way to hide their merriment.

BELMONTS ARE TO PLAY THE BADGERS

Second Game in the Championship Bowling Series To Be Rolled Tonight.

At Hockett's alleys this evening, the second game will be rolled in the series for the championship of the City Bowling League. The first game was rolled by the King Pins and the All Stars last Friday evening, the King Pins winning the victory. Tonight's contest will be between the other two teams, which are included in the league, the Badgers and the Belmonts, and some good scores are expected. The players on the two teams are as follows: Badgers—Nolan, captain; McCue, Taylor, Merrill and Sullivan. Belmonts—Schmidley, captain; Newman, Mead, Baumann and Sullivan.

GIRLS WILL SOON PLAY BASKET BALL

Young Ladies of High School Will Organize Six Teams for Fall and Winter Matches.

If by that time their stiffened and bruised muscles have regained their normal condition, the young ladies of the high school will meet for basket ball practice on Friday afternoon. On last Friday a number of them had the first practice of the year, and so great was their zeal that most of them have been crippled ever since. No definite teams took part in the work last week, but the play was rather of an informal nature to try out the ability of the contestants. The actual training for the basket ball season will not begin until after Thanksgiving.

Six Teams in Field
According to the schedule which has been laid out by the basket ball enthusiasts, the high school will furnish six ladies' teams, one from each class, and a first and second team. As matters look now it does not seem likely that the Senior class will care to participate in the contests this fall and winter, largely because of a scarcity of material.

Begin After Thanksgiving
As soon as the football season has been ended, and all danger of the girls' athletics detracting from the interest in the gridiron sports, has been done away with, Athletic Director Norris will prescribe regular practice twice a week for the young ladies. Up to that time they will meet only once a week and that in an informal way.

Will Play Schedule
A complete schedule of games will be arranged, both among the class teams, and also with out-of-town schools and the usual game with the alumni will probably take place. The first of the game will not be dated until just before the holidays, if so early as that.

ROUTINE BUSINESS WAS DISPOSED OF

THE CITY COUNCIL MEETS AND PASSES UPON PETITIONS.

BUILDING PERMIT IS GRANTED

Deputy City Treasurer Appointed—Use of Assembly Hall Recommended—Other Matters Settled.

At the meeting of the city council last evening only routine reports were heard and a few minor petitions disposed of. Skelly and Wilbur were granted permission to erect a building on South Jackson street, a report was made regarding the use of the assembly room in the city hall and other matters of like importance were attended to.

Alderman Hutchinson, Murray, McLean, Rice, Kothmann, Lowell, Gilkey and Mills answered to the roll-call. Alderman Judd came in late. Mayor Richardson presided.

Petition To Build
A motion was made that the reading of the minutes be dispensed with and on its being carried several petitions were read and referred to the proper committees. Petitions were read from Skelly & Wilbur for the erection of a building on South Jackson street, and from residents on the same street regarding violations of the bicycle ordinance. Skelly & Wilbur were granted permission by the fire and water committee to erect the desired building. The violation of the bicycle ordinance was referred to the police committee.

Deputy Treasurer Appointed
The reports of the city treasurer for the month of September were received and filed and a notice from the treasurer read appointing Miss Elsie J. Fathers, deputy city treasurer.

Alderman Gilkey then presented a list of bills approved by the finance committee. On motion by Alderman Gilkey it was ordered that the bills be paid. Alderman Kothmann reported for the judiciary committee that more time was desired to consider and to confer with the city attorney regarding the lease of the municipal court room.

Electric Light Shifted
It was then voted that the electric light ordered at Cherry and School streets be changed to South River and Oak streets.

Alderman Mills reported for the special committee on the use of the assembly chamber in the city hall. He said that on consideration of the matter it seemed that it would involve endless difficulty if the use of the room were granted to the ladies' clubs of the city, and organizations in general.

The committee recommended that two distinctions only be made, in favor of the meetings of a public character such as the medical sessions of today and of the Associated Charities. Permission had been granted to the former to hold their sessions there today and to the Associated Charities to meet once a week. The report was filed.

To Remove Platform
It was next moved on report by Alderman Rice that James Burns be notified to remove the platform abutting his property on Wall street.

On motion by Alderman Gilkey it was voted that Brown & Connors be given bonds to the amount of $507.63 to pay the remainder due for their work on South Jackson street. The same gentleman recommended in regard to a request from the public library committee that the city build a cement walk around the public library building, that no steps be taken in that direction before spring.

Street Grade Lowered
Ald. Gilkey also moved that permission be granted John McDonough to lower the street in front of his property, lot 14, block 3, in the Forest Park addition.

Alderman Mills moved and the motion was carried, that a brick sidewalk be built at the intersection of Fifth avenue and Grant street. On motion of Alderman McLean the meeting adjourned.

GIVEN A SURPRISE BY THEIR FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Starr Pleasantly Reminded of Their Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Starr were happily surprised at their home, 253 Court street, last evening by a company of about thirty-five of their intimate friends. These friends called for the purpose of reminding the host and hostess that on Sunday the third anniversary of their wedding day had occurred and that such an event was not to be permitted to pass by unnoticed. Mr. and Mrs. Starr were delighted at being reminded in so pleasant a manner and although the visitors were uninvited, they were made to feel that they were not in the least unwelcome.

After cordial greetings had been exchanged the evening was devoted to merry-making with games of various kinds. One of the chief amusements of the evening was an old-fashioned candy pull which occasioned all kinds of fun. Refreshments were served during the evening and it was a late hour when the guests extended their final congratulations and bade their host and hostess a reluctant good-night.

"SULTAN OF SULU" TONIGHT
One of the characteristic bits of satire in George Ade's opera, "The Sultan of Sulu," seen here tonight, is found in his typical character of Col. Jefferson Budd, a former Arkansas politician, who has been promoted to a command of volunteers. Col. Budd heads the comic opera expedition which conducts the gentle assimilation of the Sulu Sultan and gives a pompous and unctious portrayal of the Ade character. He it is

Key That Fits

"Half my patients need more iron," said "our doctor."
Iron makes rich, red blood. Yet it is very hard to give iron so it will do any good.

There are thousands of keys in the world—only one or two unlock your door. So we know of only one or two combinations of iron that seem to do the work.

By far the most generally useful prescription we know of is Vinol.

It has helped a great many cases in this town.

It contains the medicinal qualities of cod liver oil, iron—that-can-be-digested, and a little table wine.

It works wonders in weak women, pale children, old people, and any run-down condition. Money back if you want it.

THE QUESTIONS AT ISSUE

The arbitration committee appointed to consider the facts with respect to the anthracite controversy will no doubt have to go into a number of such things as the conditions of the industry and its ability to pay increased wage to the coal miners. Wages, hours, weighing of coal, etc., are of course, the details which may be considered the proximate cause of the present strike. There are, however, much more important questions than these at issue in the present dispute, and while perhaps the commission can not settle them directly, and permanently it can do a good deal toward clarifying the issue in the eyes of the public.

As most people now understand, the anthracite coal strike is not so much the product of exceptional conditions surrounding the mining of anthracite coal as it is the development of the principle of organized labor and its application in this country. To anyone who takes the trouble to look a little below the surface of things, it must be clear that there is a tendency towards organization of labor in this country at least as strong as the tendency towards concentration of capital. For three or four years, combinations and consolidations have absorbed all the attention of financiers, and immense progress has been made towards compact organization of capital. The tendency on the part of labor to organize in similar fashion has been less evident, but not less strong. The recent strike really results from a carefully thought out plan of the United Mine Workers' leaders to establish the domination of their union over the anthracite fields. By the intervention of the president, the whole thing has become a matter of national importance, and the eyes of the country are now fastened upon the contending parties in recognition of the fact that they represent protagonists in a struggle between highly organized capital and highly organized labor.

Two points stand out upon which the party as a whole must sooner or later pass judgment directly or indirectly if there is to be anything like a settlement of permanence between organized labor and organized capital. The first of these is the right of free labor. Will the people of the United States recognize the right of organized labor to prevent the non-union man from working, or will they recognize the right of the laborer to work and the employer to hire him, whether he be a union man or not? Upon the answer to this depend a good many things. If a man's right to work for an employer, or an employer's right to hire a man to work for him, is restricted by any power other than the state, it is clear that he state's guarantee to its citizens of equal rights and privileges is worthless. We do not see how the people of this country can afford to endorse the claim of the union to exclusive right of work without surrendering a large part of its liberty to an organization which may be wholly irresponsible and not amenable to the law.

This brings us to the second point, namely, the responsibility of organized labor. A labor union cannot expect to treat upon equal terms with an employer unless there be equal responsibility on both sides. No body cares much what machinery is adopted to ensure equal responsibility, and more than one way may suggest itself to those concerned. There are some good objections to incorporation of labor unions, and some good reasons for it. We think the balance is in favor of incorporation. But these are mere details about which there may be dispute. There can, however, be no dispute on the main point of equal responsibility as a necessary preliminary for the making of a contract. We have several times pointed out that ability to make a contract is a distinguishing characteristic of a free man. Organized labor must recognize this if it is to be successful in its attempt permanently to improve the condition of the laboring man.

These are the real questions at issue in connection with the coal strike and it is greatly to be hoped that some way will be found for securing their exhaustive consideration by the arbitration commission so as to clear the public mind on these two points. We regard them both as principles upon which no compromise is possible. If the commission performs its task without some pronouncement upon these points, it seems to us that its value to the public will be relatively small, and that a great opportunity will have been lost.—Wall Street Journal.

WHO ARE THE BOTHERS?

The governor showed his hand at Appleton last Saturday, when he said in substance that he was ready to endorse Senator Spooner for reelection, when the senator declared his allegiance to the Madison platform. The governor has evidently reached a point in his campaign, where he regards defeat an impossibility, and where he regards it perfectly safe to remove the mask and openly defy the party to defeat him if they can.

His plank in the platform referring to Senator Spooner's loyalty, was recognized as an insult, and the men who became a party to it by lending their support to its adoption, were given to understand by an indignant constituency that politics of that peculiar brand would not be tolerated in Wisconsin.

This wave of indignation resulted in Spooner conventions being held all over the state, and unconditional endorsement was almost universally demanded. In open defiance of this wide spread republican sentiment the little czar at Madison has the audacity on the eve of election to defy popular sentiment and demand of Senator Spooner allegiance to himself.

This demand, coming at this late hour, is no surprise to men who have studied the governor's methods throughout the campaign. His rule or ruin policy has been so apparent in assembly districts where the Spooner issue was the only issue, that candidates for the lower house, in strong republican centers, have been, and still are, uncertain of results.

In many of these districts the governor's admirers are quietly working for democratic candidates, and lining up to bolt every man on the ticket who is not pronounced in advocating the governor's hobbies. This is loyalty with a vengeance. Senator Spooner has gone out of his way in every campaign address to advise loyal support to the entire state ticket, and it is generally conceded even by the governor's friends that he has saved to the state ticket many thousand votes.

As a reward for this kind of unselfish service the governor deliberately puts him on the rack and questions his loyalty. If that is republicanism, God save the state. The bolters, so freely discussed, are in the ranks of La Folletteism, and under the leadership of an expert.

A majority of one democrat in the next legislature, means a democratic United States senator, and a combination of democrats and La Follette representatives, showing a majority of one, means the defeat of Senator Spooner. It behooves every republican who believes in the unconditional endorsement of Senator Spooner to vote for republican legislative candidates.

The findings of the commission appointed by the president to arbitrate the coal strike, will be watched with interest. It is safe to say that labor and capital will be benefited, and the country will be assured of an adjustment that will prevent the recurrence of an experience that created so much suffering and injustice.

"I will raise my voice for the reelection of Senator Spooner when he swears allegiance to my platform." That in a nutshell is the difference between two men who are so prominently before the people of the state. Republican sentiment is with the senator.

Up in Outagamie county the governor took occasion to command the assemblymen present for supporting his railroad measures. The records show that both men voted against the bills, and the chances are that they were acting under instructions.

Every woman in the state who is interested in the welfare of the public schools, should vote for the amendment to the constitution and for a candidate for school superintendent who is free from any taint of corruption.

New York contractors have in transit and ready to ship 500,000 tons of foreign coal. The settlement of the coalstrike will likely destroy profits on foreign shipments.

Congressman Cooper will speak in Beloit Wednesday night. He is ready to come to Janesville as soon as a date can be arranged with the opera house.

The state of Ohio is in the throes of political reform, and Wisconsin is on the edge. Populism and theoretical reform is on the increase. It is about time to call a halt.

Vote the republican ticket from La Follette down. Principles are greater than men.

To vote for the state prohibition ticket is half a vote for democracy. Otherwise it is harmless.

Every voter owes it to himself to exercise the right of suffrage on election day.

PRESS COMMENT

Boston Globe: According to the ruling of a court of justice, it cost a dollar in Missouri for a man to whip his wife—if he can.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: The students at Lawrence University at Appleton, Wis., who painted a freshman with iodine, must have a peculiar idea of what constitutes real fun.

Des Moines Register Leader: In a Wisconsin school a group of co-ed tied freshman girls with ropes and exhibited them. Who will say young women are not fitted for the higher education?

Washington Post: The cabinet is pretty well scattered over the country at present. But President Roosevelt beat the spell-binding all hollow when he forced a settlement of the coal strike.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Cuba will be the greatest sufferer by failing to tote fair with United States. The next time they achieve independence the Cubans will have to do their own fighting.

Washington Post: Governor La Follette is advising the Wisconsin voters to return John C. Spooner to the senate. The governor is evidently in need of the support of the Spoonerites.

Chicago Record-Herald: An eastern scientist predicts that in five years the air ship will take the place of the automobile. Are we to understand from this that in five years the air ship will get to killing others besides those who operate it?

Beloit Free Press: However, the game warden of La Fayette county "holds over" the g. v. of Price county for he put in his per diem bill for thirty days in February, while the Phillips chap could only squeeze thirty one days out of June.

Kansas City Star: The percentage of illiteracy in Arkansas maintains a significant ratio to the number of negroes which it burns at the stake. If Arkansas was somewhere in the wilds of Africa the churches would never rest until they filled it with missionaries.

Green Bay Gazette: If women are to be allowed to vote for superintendents of schools should they not also be allowed to help nominate them? Party caucuses and conventions in which women are allowed to participate would be better and more wholesome than some that are occasionally held.

Minneapolis Times: Without an arrest the anti-slipping ordinance has brought about a great improvement in the condition of Minneapolis sidewalks. The law was an appeal to decency and many men, who were careless before, heeded it. The town is not quite spotless but it is in better condition than formerly.

New York Tribune: England is having almost as much trouble with her education bill as she had with the corn laws half a century ago, with the promise before her that in whatever way it is settled the malcontents will be about equal in numbers to the winners, and two or three times as hot under the collar.

Philadelphia Enquirer: A Chicago woman reports that she was robbed of ten thousand dollars worth of silver mountings on her harness in her barn Friday night. There is something about this that we do not understand. Do Chicago women wear their jewels in their harness? This calls for reflections.

Boston Herald: The New York Times considers President Eliot's criticism that we spend too little money on our public schools, and remarks that we frequently fail to get our money's worth for what we do spend. In fact it is opined that his aspect of the question demands as much attention as the other if not more.

Enu Claire Leader: If the coal dealers of Wisconsin are wise they will act in a spirit of fairness towards their customers while the questions at issue between the miners and the mine owners are being adjusted. Any attempt to take advantage of the present scarcity would influence the members of the commission materially in their consideration of the matter. Let the dealers remember that moderate profits fill the purse. They will find it to their interest to avoid everything that would have a tendency to elevate prices to a higher figure than that which now prevails.

Superior Telegram: Is there a "Home Consumers' League" in Superior? If there is, it is keeping extremely quiet and will not be charged with unduly disturbing the public. How would it do to organize one for, say, a year, and see how it would work? If there were some thousands of Superior bound together who would patronize home institutions exclusively it certainly would not be a bad thing for Superior tradesmen, and what would benefit them would benefit all. In any event it is an experiment that is worth trying for a time at least. If it was discovered to be a bad thing it could at any time be abandoned. If some one would start it, it could be done. Who will start it?

REGISTRATION IS STILL VERY LIGHT

But Few More Names are on the List For Next Tuesday's Vote.

Evidently nearly all of the Janesville citizens who desire to vote in the election one week from today, were registered in the first registration. At any rate at two o'clock this afternoon not more than twenty had presented themselves at all of the appointed places of registration in the city.

At one place the officers reported that three men had been in, at another five, and at another the officials had been the only persons in the building all day. Women were decidedly out of evidence. The booths will close at eight o'clock this evening, and it is advisable for everyone who desires a voice in the coming election to see that his or her name is taken down, if it has not already appeared on the printed lists of those whose names were enrolled at the former registration.

After today it will involve endless red tape to secure a ballot, while it is the simplest matter possible to register today, and have a vote guaranteed. One of the officers estimated that the list in his precinct did not include two-thirds of the voting population. In that case there are a large number who either do not intend to vote on the state ticket this fall, or else hope to be able to secure a vote at the last moment. They run a good chance of being disappointed if they attempt the latter.

KING @ COWLES.

DAMAGE IS DONE FOR PETTY SPITE

SUPPOSED WORK OF ENEMIES OF
WILLIAM MILLIGAN

AT ROESLING STONE QUARRY

Tools Were Stolen, Harness Cut to Bits, and Blast Holes Filled with Stones.

Some unknown person or persons committed several petty acts of violence at the Roesling quarry Saturday evening or Sunday morning. Tools belonging to William Milligan, who works the quarry, were stolen; an attempt was made to clog several drill holes with stones; and a harness was cut into small strips. It is taken for granted that the work was that of some one who had a personal spite against Mr. Milligan.

Tools Taken
Sunday morning Mr. Milligan missed the tools which had been in their place Saturday when he stopped work. Picks, shovels and crowbars were all gone, and the only traces left were a number of footprints clearly outlined in the earth. Some harnesses had been cut and slashed until they were worthless and beyond repair, indicating very clearly that it was with malicious intent that the marauder had done his work.

Tried To Fill Holes
Several holes had been drilled for a blast, over twenty feet in depth, and four inches in diameter, and an attempt had been made to fill them up with stones, but with over zeal rocks of too great a size had been employed, and the holes had been clogged three or four feet below the surface. The stones were easily extracted.

For Petty Spite
It seems evident to the owner of the property that the guilty party or parties did their work with no idea of securing the tools for their own use, but rather to gain revenge for some personal enmity.

NEARLY FINISHED LAYING TRACK

Work on the Interurban Railway is Nearing Completion Very Rapidly.

Workmen are now laying the last strip of track needed to connect this city and Beloit by the Interurban line. The last material has arrived, and will be used to complete the track at once. The ballasting will then begin, and the actual operation of the road will not be delayed long after that. As the foliage in the Fourth street route in Beloit is so dense, a separate feeder wire is being strung to carry power from the Beloit power house to the sub-station just outside of this city, on the Beloit road.

Far-Reaching System
Mr. Clough has at last made a definite hopeful statement regarding the Delavan Lake extension of the proposed Beloit, Janesville and Delavan Lake Interurban system. His original views on the expense of the line have not been altered, but he now believes, drawing his conclusions from the success of the Beloit-Rockford line that any such expenditure would be justified. Especially is this true when his latest project is embodied in the plan.

Extend To Milwaukee
His plan is now to make this line simply a part of a much larger system reaching out toward the east of the state until it touches Milwaukee. It is not to be taken for granted that this extension will be made immediately. Even the Delavan Lake extension cannot be undertaken for many months to come. What route will then be employed in extending the line cannot yet be stated. He has simply come to the conclusion that the profits accruing from the line would in the course of a few years far exceed the cost of construction and operation. The results of the part of the system already in operation have already far surpassed his most sanguine hopes.

An Expensive System
Over sixty thousand dollars, Mr. Clough says, has already been expended on the copper wires for the trolley and feeders on the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville system, and this item of cost makes the electric road far exceed that of a steam road. But he has convinced his fellow investors in the concern that it pays, and he is now confident that the Delavan Lake extension is assured.

TWO DRUNKS FINED BY JUDGE FIFIELD

John Griffin is Also Before the Municipal Court Charged With Using Obscene Language.

Two drunks were brought up in the municipal court this morning before Judge Fifield. John Arkinson was allowed to go with a sentence of $5.20 or twelve days in jail, while Nathan Thornton was allowed to spend three days in jail and pay three dollars or remain in prison for six days longer. John Griffin was brought up in the same court in the charge of using abusive and obscene language to Myrtle Griffin. He is alleged to have made the remarks in the presence of George Croft. Griffin pleaded not guilty and the case was postponed for a further hearing until tomorrow at 10:00 a. m. He was released on a two hundred dollar bond.

Maintain Excellent Order
Manager Blakely will make it a strong point this winter to see that any and all objectionable characters are not admitted to the roller skating rink. This rule will be strictly lived up to. Happy features of the evening were the presentation of two handsome gifts to the bride of ten years. TOOK A FLYING TRIP TO BUFFALO

UNIQUE SOCIAL GIVEN IN FIRST
M. E. CHURCH PARLORS.

EPWORTH LEAGUE IN CHARGE

Imaginative Trip by Railroad Causes
Much Amusement for Crowd of Excursionists.

Members and friends of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church enjoyed last evening in a novel manner by taking "a trip to Buffalo." A large number of excursionists presented themselves at the ticket office in the church parlors early in the evening and long before the train pulled out of the station at 8 o'clock every seat was taken and every berth engaged. As other excursionists joined the party at the way stations it was found necessary to increase the accommodations.

Competent Officials
The train, when completed, occupied the entire Sunday school room and had a jolly crowd on board. At eight o'clock there was a ringing of bells, a vigorous blowing of whistles and the imaginative trip to Buffalo began. The train was under the charge of Will and Clifford Austin, as engineer and fireman, with A. W. Hall as conductor and Will Rothermel as brakeman.

The trip occupied about an hour, stops being made at only the most important stations. Much amusement was occasioned by the antics of the colored porter, who was recognized as Lloyd Winston, and by the realistic work of Len Brown, the untiring and ever-patient newsboy. By his persistence and the unusual excellence of his wares, the newsboy succeeded in disposing of innumerable bags of pop corn and candy.

Music Hall Concert
Arrived at Buffalo, the excursionists were escorted to a music hall where a grand concert was given by artists with unpronounceable and unspellable names. In spite of the high-sounding stage names, those who took part in the program were easily recognized as members of the local league.

The program was a very short one, opening with a burlesque address of welcome, given by Rev. W. W. Warner, masquerading as the mayor of Buffalo. The other numbers on the program were a vocal solo by Mrs. W. W. Bagley, a recitation by Miss Cora Wilhelmy and a vocal duet by the Misses Pearl Hall and Mabel Woodman.

Something To Eat
Delicious refreshments were served in the music hall by a corps of efficient waiters. The social, which was a decided and unique success, was given under the direction of the social committee of which Miss Elva Crawford is chairman.

MILO THAYER IS ASLEEP IN DEATH

Well Known Young Man Passed Away
This Noon After Long Illness.

At twelve o'clock this noon, Milo M. Thayer closed his eyes in the final sleep which knows no earthly waking. The announcement of his death will come as a sad and unwelcome surprise to his many friends, for while it had been known that he was seriously ill, few people realized that the young man was in such a critical condition.

Death was the result of a complication of diseases with which Mr. Thayer had been confined to his home on West Bluff street for the past three weeks. He grew gradually weaker until the end came, his devoted wife being alone with him at the time.

Deceased was thirty-four years of age last May and the greater part of his life was spent in this city. Gentle ways made him a favorite among his friends and he possessed the qualifications of a successful business man. For several years he was engaged in the shoe business and was one of the best informed shoe merchants in the city. Recently he has been associated with his father in the tobacco business.

Mr. Thayer was a prominent member of Olive Branch Lodge, No. 38, A. O. U. W., and had held several offices in the local lodge besides being for some time deputy grand master of the state. The duties of this office gave him a wide acquaintance throughout the state and his death will be learned with regret by the lodges whose membership he helped to increase.

Several years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Mamie Griswold and she, with one son Morris, is left to mourn his loss. The bereavement is also a heavy blow to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thayer, who sorrow for an only child.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed and the announcement will be made later.

John Rutherford
Funeral services for the late John Rutherford were held from the home, 295 South Bluff street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. H. Barrington, rector of Christ Episcopal church, being the officiating clergyman. The song service was beautifully given by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Christine Hawley, Mrs. C. S. Putnam, William Rager and Harry P. Robinson. The sad service was attended by many friends and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery, the pall bearers being members of W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20, G. A. R.

MEDICS MEET, DINE AND TALK

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CENTRAL WISCONSIN SOCIETY.

BANQUET AT GRAND HOTEL

Thirty-five Listen to Interesting Talks and Eat a Good Dinner.

About thirty-five members of the Central Wisconsin Medical society attended the quarterly meeting held in this city today. The sessions were held in the assembly room of the city hall, and the banquet at 1:30 over which Dr. J. B. Whiting presided as master, was held in the dining rooms of the Grand Hotel.

Morning Session

In the morning the programme was not adhered to strictly as far as order was concerned as many of the speakers did not arrive until nearly noon. In one or two cases the speakers failed to appear, and the addresses were necessarily omitted. It was an unexpected treat for the doctors to witness a clinic by Dr. N. S. Davis, Jr., of Chicago, who also delivered one of the addresses of the meeting. The clinic was held on a case which was brought in by Dr. Pember, and the remarks of the distinguished Chicago physician were listened to with great interest.

The Banquet

After an excellent banquet served in the Grand Hotel, Dr. J. B. Whiting ably took the part of toastmaster, and called for three responses. Each of them was answered in the spirit of combined joviality and deliberation which marked the entire meeting, although the spirit of mirth and good cheer was strongly in the preponderance in the toasts.

The Responses

The banquet of the Wis. Cen. Med. Society—Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, Janesville:

"He dined, not wisely, but too well,
Hence all his ills,
And nothing now agrees with him excepting pills."

The Surgeon—Dr. S. R. Moyer, Monroe:

"Born to improve us in every part,
His scapel our bodies; his manners—
our heart.

His scapel was trifling; relentless and grand.

His manners were gentle complying and bland."

The Conscientious Physician—Dr. J. A. Jackson Madison:

"A consciousness of work well done,
Expands my heart with joy,
How clear the air; how bright the sun;
I feel just like a boy."

ELECTION NOTICE.

To The Electors of Rock County:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards, and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the 4th day of Nov., 1902, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidate for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below

Office of the County Clerk, October 27, 1902.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If it be a general election these words are to follow:

The voter if he wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, should make a cross mark X under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked, and having no other mark, will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a cross mark be placed in the square under the name or at any place in the space occupied by the name or names of candidates in another column, and will be counted for any name, written in lieu of one erased. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

PAID GOOD MONEY BUT CANNOT HUNT

Game Warden Stops Fun of a Chicago Man Whose License Application Is Sidetracked.

F. E. Stoley, of Chicago, whose anticipated vacation spent in the pursuit of elusive ducks on Wisconsin lakes, was nipped in the bud by Game Warden Drafahl, regards himself as the unfortunate victim of circumstances. Early last week Mr. Stoley applied to Country Clerk F. P. Starr for a hunting license and as licenses to non-residents of the state can be secured only through the state department, Country Clerk Starr provided Mr. Stoley with the necessary form of application.

Mr. Stoley asserts that he secured the draft for $10, the necessary fee, at the bank in Edgerton and forwarded it at once to the secretary of state. Then, with a clear conscience, he began to make the most of his time with his gun. A rude awakening came when Game Warden Drafahl asked to see his hunting license. Mr. Stoley had no license but he explained the situation to the game warden. Investigation proved that nothing had been heard of the application at the secretary of state's office and Country Clerk Starr had received no returns. While the game warden and all others concerned believe that Mr. Stoley made his application in due form and that it must have miscarried in some way, nevertheless the law insists that no one shall hunt without a license. As Mr. Stoley does not possess the necessary document, although he insists that he has paid for it, he cannot be permitted to hunt in Wisconsin.

WYNDHAM DEFENDS COURSE

In Reply to Bitter Attack on Government He Pleads Justification in View of the Strenuous Use of the Boycott by the Irish.

London, Oct. 23.—By a friendly agreement between Premier Balfour and the Irish leaders in parliament, William O'Brien was enabled to discuss Ireland's grievances in the house of commons.

The nationalist members are jubilant over what they claim to be Premier Balfour's "climb down" from his refusal to grant a day to discuss the proclamations of the crimes act. Blocking motions to prevent such discussion were set up last week by unionist members, but, through government influences these motions were withdrawn.

Attack on Wyndham. Mr. O'Brien argued that the harsh administration of this act was endangering the peace of Ireland. He accused the chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Wyndham, of employing England's power to enable the territorial magnates of Ireland to play their own game. He contended that Dublin was much more peaceable than Birmingham and said the Irish were prepared to make generous terms with the landlords if the latter would act as Irishmen instead of posing as "countryless, half caste, Anglo-Irish octogenarians."

Alleges Intimidation. Other Irishmen having spoken, Mr. Wyndham, in defense of the government, said illegal intimidation must be suppressed; and, although he disliked to use military terms, he declared that "pending the settlement of peace between the contending forces the fighting must go on," a statement which excited a fresh outburst, the nationalist members shouting "a foolish observation," and "we accept the challenge," etc.

Mr. Wyndham continued by citing numerous cases of boycotting and concluded his speech by declaring it was hopeless to persuade parliament to deal with the land question while this system of intimidation prevailed.

Blames Government. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman blamed the government for refusing facilities for the discussion of Irish matters, and declared that Mr. Wyndham had failed to justify the enforcement of the crimes act. He said that after ten years of resolute government Ireland had "a crimes act for its magna charta and a Sergeant Sheridan as the embodiment of law and order."

Scotch Miners' Demand. Glasgow, Oct. 23.—The Scotch miners have demanded an increase of 12 cents a day in wages. About 70,000 miners are affected.
